Структура и дизайн — это то, на чем я часто застреваю, так что это просто ВАУ! Большое спасибо, мне не терпится углубиться в эту тему!

Письмо от генерального директора

Я очень рад, что вы познакомились с Flodesk Studio. Это новое отдельное приложение, не связанное с уже знакомым вам Flodesk, которое за считанные секунды превращает один запрос в потрясающее, фирменное письмо с высокой конверсией. Работа, которая раньше занимала целый день, теперь отнимает меньше времени, чем чтение этого абзаца. Пока мы находимся на стадии бета-тестирования, приложение совершенно бесплатное.

Это не просто функция, которую мы добавили в наш существующий конструктор. Это новый дом для творчества — собственное приложение, созданное с нуля. За последний год я побывал на другом конце света, чтобы поработать бок о бок с моим техническим директором Троном и нашей командой разработчиков во Вьетнаме (семь месяцев и ни днем меньше). И все это ради ответа на один вопрос: каково было бы писать электронные письма, если бы не было всех этих сложностей?

Studio is the answer. You add your brand, write a prompt, and pick your favorite of three directions. From there you edit however your brain works...by chatting with it, or by hand, with more blocks and controls than you've ever had before.

One promise: you'll find no AI slop here. Every design Studio draws from was hand-crafted by a small team of some of the best designers in the world. We didn't use AI to replace the human eye, we used it to clear away everything standing between you and the joy of making something beautiful. When you use Studio, you're investing in the creative community, not replacing it.

And because this is a beta, it won't be perfect. There will be bugs and missing pieces. There's a "share feedback" button right inside the app, and I mean it: tell us everything. We're building Studio in the open, with you, and what you tell us will shape what it becomes.

Today it's for email. Soon, we hope for far more.

Building Studio changed how I think about creating. I hope it changes how often you create. See you inside the Studio!

Building your business is harder than it should be

When you started coaching, it was about the people. The breakthroughs, the messages that say "you changed everything for me," the reason you do this at all. But somewhere along the way you became your own admin, scheduler, and tech support too. I know, because I lived it. Half my week disappeared into booking links, payment chasing, and writing the same email for the hundredth time. So I finally built a system that runs the back office for me, and gave my energy back to the only part that matters: showing up for my clients.

- Book clients without the endless back-and-forth emails
- Send check-ins and follow-ups that feel personal
- Get paid on time without that awkward money conversation every now and then
- Keep every client's progress and notes in one calm place
- Spend your hours coaching, not wrestling with your tools
