TWO WAYS TO START

Launching a new business

Start from a single sentence. Leapd researches the market, writes the mission, builds the product and landing page, and brings in your first customers — a real business from nothing.

Market research is ready — it maps the full competitive landscape through the lens of where post-sale retention breaks down and who's actually trying to own it. Biggest gap: none of the competitors, including DealerPulse at $5K/month, have a purpose-built agent targeting the specific window between sale close and first service visit, which is where 55% of buyers silently disappear.
